TOURISM DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES (M.A.)

I decided to study at HOST because ...

after my bachelor studies in Leisure- and Tourism-Geography, I wanted to do a master's degree with an economic approach to tourism. Together with the great location on the Baltic Sea, the TDS Master at HOST was the clear choice.

I especially liked ...

the international orientation of the master's programme, with English as the language of study and the international excursion, which has certainly contributed to my current international working environment.

At the same time, I was able to gain practical experience of tourism in the destination around me during my studies and put topics into practice in the co-operations of the HOST and local tourism companies. Further, a special characteristic was definitely the familiar atmosphere and individual support during the TDS programme in Stralsund.
